

Forty young girls put themselves in the hands of master golfer, Jack Soorer, at the Geelong Golf Club yesterday. The girls, aged from 10 to 18 years, were taking part in the golf clinic conducted by the South Western District Golf Association. The clinic was held at Geelong Golf Club. Jack Soorer is pictured showing ten-year-old Judith Tubbs the proper swing for her club. Some of the other girls are looking on. The day was organized by Miss Betty Karnot, patron of the Association, and Mrs. J. Blair, president. Pictured are, from left: Miss Karnot, Heather Roydhouse, Mrs. Blair, Lyn Crellin, Ruth Scheffeld, and Alison Hill.
